

PRESS RELEASE

ST. LUKE’S CATARACT & LASER INSTITUTE CLINIC MANAGER ONE OF EIGHT IN THE NATION NAMED TO GOVERNMENT RELATIONS TASK FORCE

Billie-jo Jary, Clinic Quality Supervisor at St. Luke’s Cataract & Laser Institute is one of eight people in the nation selected to serve on a government task force by the American Society of Ophthalmic Administrators (ASOA).

ASOA is the premier organization for the business side of ophthalmic practices. Serving administrators, managers, physicians, and office staff – ASOA offers avenues for personal and professional growth and provides support, tools, and resources for the daily challenges of managing a practice.

As part of its ongoing effort to educate and inform ASOA members about government relations in general, ASOA has formed the eight person task force. The task force’s main objective is to generate ways to present governmental communications into “bite-sized snippets” on a regular and continuing basis. The group will meet monthly and also at its May 5-9, 2017 annual conference in Los Angeles.

Billie-jo Jary currently serves St. Luke’s in multiple capacities. She manages clinic training and staff development and in addition, she has oversight of: regulatory programs; quality assurance of patient charts including coding and billing; and compliance with privacy and HIPAA.

“As a new administration begins, we’re fortunate to have this opportunity to be at the forefront of governmental communications,” said Jary. “I’m honored to be able to represent St. Luke’s in this capacity.”
